Iannuzzi Wins Rizio Trophy

Manchester, VT—Joel Iannuzzi, of Manchester, won the first ever Joseph Amedeo Rizio Precision Short Game Trophy at the 5th Annual Long Trail School golf tourney, held in honor of Bing Hunter. The trophy, which will be an annual prize, was named in memory of Joe Rizio, a local builder dedicated to community service and education, who passed away earlier this summer.

“Rizio was known for his attention to detail and his precision,” says Allan Tschorn, president of the Long Trail Parents Association. “He was a long time supporter of Long Trail School and a terrific golf player. We wanted an award to recognize and honor this wonderful man.”

As Rizio’s craftsmanship was known for its quality and beauty, the trophy is an engraved framing hammer and be the coveted prize at all future Long Trail golf tournaments.
