LONG TRAIL SCHOOL WELCOMES ANDREA ROSS TO ITS BOARD OF TRUSTEES

Dorset--- John Sobel, Chair of Long Trail School's Board of Trustees, is pleased to welcome Andrea Ross to the Long Trail Board. Ross brings a wealth of school experience and a lifelong commitment to education to her new position, and Long Trail's Board is thrilled that she has chosen to partner with the School during this exciting time in its history.

Chair John Sobel welcomes Andrea Ross to the Long Trail School Board of Trustees.

Andrea Ross' career of community service includes more than twenty-five years in clinical patient care; board service and active involvement with local schools, community foundations and family services. Having earned her B.S. and Masters in Nursing from the University of Pennsylvania, Andrea served as a Primary Nurse at Children's Hospital of Philadelphia and later at Children's Hospital National Medical Center in Washington, D.C. Ross also had training and gained clinical experience at Yale-New Haven Medical Center, Boston Children's Hospital, and Magee Women's Hospital (Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania). The focus of her graduate studies and clinical nursing career was on the psychological impact of hospitalization on the child and his/her family. Andrea is the Founder and past Chairperson of the Arlington Hospital "Friends of Nursing" Foundation.

As the mother of eight children, Andrea Ross has served as a trustee and on advisory boards of numerous schools and community-based organizations, including The Country Day School of McLean, Virginia; Fairfield Country Day School Parents' Association, Fairfield, Connecticut (President 2001-02); Northshire Day School, Manchester, Vermont (Steering Committee); Northshire Civic Center, Advisory Board; Frog Hollow, Middlebury, Vermont (Trustee) and the Arlington Community Foundation (Arlington, Virginia).

Having moved her family to Manchester Village in 2003, Andrea Ross currently serves on the Advisory Board of Riley Rink/Hunter Park/Northshire Civic Association. Andrea and her husband Larry are the proud parents of Jim Albrittain (Corporate Executive Board, Washington, D.C.); Ashley Albrittain Ross (Coty Cosmetics, New York, NY); Natalie Albrittain Ross (Senior, University of Vermont); Else Ross (Sophomore, Hobart and William Smith Colleges); Brooks Ross (Freshman, University of Colorado); Ben Ross (Junior, Westminster School); Lily Ross (LTS student from 2005-2008 now Freshman, St. Paul's School); and Robin Ross (Maple Street School).
